Here Is What Transpired At Monday's Meeting Of The Palm Beach County Commission

County Commission Monday asked County Engineer Stephen R. Middleton to make preliminary studies on additional sites for the proposed jet airport after Middleton reported that Air Force officials "are not entirely satisfied with the present site."

Middleton, who recently returned from Washington where he met with Air Force officials regarding plans and specifications for the proposed site, told the board that the "Air Force primarily had two objections to our proposed airport: "First, that the site proposed is not entirely satisfactory and thus they want to study alternate sites, and secondly, that the Air Force is not in complete agreement with runway requirements already approved by the CAA", Middleton said.

The proposed airport has already received full CAA approval.

The board told Middleton to prepare preliminary information such as that regarding soil bearing, drainage etc., after which Air Force officials can come here to view the various sites and make their selection.

Middleton stressed that "the Air Force has not completely rejected our present site."

In line with this, the commission adopted a resolution to be sent to the legislative delegation in Washington urging the Air Force to reconsider deactivation of the Palm Beach Air Force Base, slated for 1959.

Commission Chairman Kenneth P. Foster urged that "we accelerate our plans for the proposed new jet airport so we'll have a chance to keep the Air Force in the county on a permanent basis."

Commissioner Paul Rardin pointed out that the PBAFB expenditure in this county since 1951 has totaled nearly $82 million.

streets. Fair enough. I am a film star—I am public property. I don't complain of this, it would be ungrateful to complain of this, because it is this that helps to make the film star. The public has a right to all this. I submit. But, it is different when I leave the set and go home. I do not want the public in my house. The public has no right being there. How I live is private, and what I eat, what I wear, whether or not I wear pajamas in bed—this is my business, the business of my private existence, apart from the business of being Lollobrigida, the film actress. As such I do not wish anybody to share it. This is my privacy, and I do not wish it to be invaded any more than I would invade anybody else's privacy." Rather caustic, but right answer to the wrong question. See you at the movies—Mal.

Cinematic Chatter

By Malcolm Millar

Hello everybody! Gina Lollobrigida, the lovely star from sunny Italy, has some rather definite views about publicity and its values. Some of these were set forth in Paris recently. An American journalist asked her what she wore when she went to sleep at night. Boy, Did He Get An Answer! Here it is: "I won't answer that question, because it is none of anybody's business but my own. When I am working I am a public figure. Press agents and magazine and newspaper people make speculations on the dimensions of various parts of my body. My hair style is copied. My picture is taken. I am interviewed. I make personal appearances. I am stared at on the

Thousands Eligible For Disability Social Security Fail To Make Applications

More than one hundred thousand severely disabled people in communities all over the Nation will receive their first social security disability insurance checks August, announced R. C. Gehrken, Jr., district manager of the West Palm Beach social security office today. But many other eligible disabled workers 50 to 65 years of age, some of whom no doubt living in Canal Point, have so far failed to make application to their social security offices. Those who have been disabled for work for a long time must apply before June 30, Mr. Gehrken pointed out, or they will lose their rights to these new benefit payments.

Any severely disabled person who has worked under social security for at least 5 years and who has been disabled for 6 months or more should get in touch with his social security office right away, the social security district manager said. If he is between 50 and 65 years of age, he may be eligible for monthly disability insurance benefits. If he is under 50, he may be eligible to have his social security record frozen to protect his future right to disability payments, and also his and his family's rights to alimony and survivors insurance benefits.

"Unfortunately there is a lot of misunderstanding Mr. Gehrken said, as to how 'disabled' a worker has to be to get social security disability insurance benefits or to have his social security record frozen. The rules in the social security law for deciding whether a person is 'disabled' are different from the rules in some other Government and private disability programs." To be found "disabled" under the social security law, he said a worker must have a disability which, in the words of the law, makes him unable "to engage in any substantial gainful activity." It must be the kind of physical or mental condition which shows up in the medical evidence, including his doctor's report, hospital reports, or special tests, and it must have lasted for at least 6 months and be expected to continue for a long and indefinite time.

In general, he said, "substantial and gainful activity" means the performance of a substantial amount of work with reasonable regularity in employment or self-employment. A person does not have to be completely helpless to qualify under the social security disability provisions, Mr. Gehrken emphasized. Consideration is given to all of the facts in the individual's situation both medical and nonmedical.

First consideration is, of course, given to the severity of his condition as shown by the medical evidence. This evidence must show that the person has a condition which makes him unable to perform significant functions such as moving about, handling objects, hearing, speaking, understanding, reasoning, so that he cannot with his training, education and work experience engage in any kind of substantial gainful activity.

Examples of some impairments which would ordinarily be considered severe enough to prevent substantial gainful activity are:

- 1 Loss of use of two limbs.
- 2 Progressive disease, such as diabetes, multiple sclerosis, or Buerger's disease, which has resulted in the physical loss or atrophy of a limb.
- 3 Disease of heart, lungs or blood vessels which has resulted in major loss of heart or lung reserve as evidenced by x-ray, electrocardiogram or other objective findings so that, despite medical treatment, it produces breathlessness, pain or fatigue on slight exertion, such as walking several blocks, using public transportation or doing small chores.

4 Cancer which is inoperable and progressive.

5 Damage to the brain or brain abnormality which has resulted in severe loss of judgment, intellect, orientation, or memory.

6 Mental disease (e. g., psychosis or severe psychoneurosis) requiring continuous institutionalization or constant supervision of affected individual.

7 Loss or diminution of vision to the extent that the affected individual has central visual acuity of no better than 20-200 in the better eye after best correction, or has an equivalent concentric contraction of his visual fields.

8 Permanent and total loss of speech.

9 Total deafness uncorrectible by a hearing aid.

Mr. Gehrken said most individuals with such serious disabilities are unable to work. There are cases, however, where a person with such a severe disability is working, or able to work, because of his special knowledge and skills. He would be eligible under the social security disability provisions the district manager said, because he would be able to engage in substantial gainful activity. On the other hand, a person might work occasionally or intermittently but this would not necessarily mean that he was able to engage in substantial gainful activity. Both the nature of the work and the amount of money he earned would have to be considered.

Average Americans

The youngsters at high school are planning a bus trip to Washington, D. C. Seems they are going to have a look at more than the nation's capital; they are going to see how people live in the different places they pass through. As I remember, a trip out of the county was something we just dreamed about when we were younger. We knew everybody in town by name and thought people from out of town were different.

From where I'm sittin', it doesn't hurt us to get out and see how the rest of the country lives. We'd find the "Average American" doing everything from farm to fly-in... with everything from steak to stew for his favorite dish... everything from beer to buttermilk for his favorite beverage. And the more we study our differences the more we learn how alike everyone is underneath. We all want to make up our own mind about what we like or don't like, and not try to make the other fellow's mind up for him.

Pick your savings target and shoot straight for it!

A home . . . financial security . . . a business of your own. Important savings targets like these cost money—a substantial sum—and more than most of us have. But here's a sure way for you to score a bull's-eye and walk off with the big prize you want.

The secret of saving is system. And the simplest, most automatic saving system ever devised is the Payroll Savings Plan. Best of all, you do more than save through Payroll Savings. You invest your money, too, and make it grow. Here's how it works:

Tell your company pay office how much you want to save each week. Then each pay period that amount will be put aside for you before you have a chance to spend it. Your money will go automatically into U. S. Series E Savings Bonds.

Because Savings Bonds earn good interest—3% compounded semiannually when held to maturity (9 years and 8 months)—they're soon worth much more than you've invested in them. And your Bonds will continue to pay this same good interest as long as 19 years and 8 months. That means a return of up to 80% more than you originally paid.

And remember this. There's no guesswork or chance about the Payroll Savings Plan. It's absolutely safe and sure. Invest just $7.50 a week. In 5 years you'll have Savings Bonds worth $2053 in cash; in 10 years, $4448.

Even if you've never been able to save before, this plan is guaranteed to work for you. So sign up today for Payroll Savings where you work—or invest in Bonds regularly where you bank.

For the big things in your life, be ready with U. S. Savings Bonds

(but it's a lamb to handle)

To know a Chevy in all its glory, head one into the open—the more mountains the better. You'll soon see why so many people date on that smooth sure Chevrolet response and stout-hearted power. Chevy's performance makes their dollars look big!

You don't have to urge this car along. A Chevrolet comes alive with the flip of an ignition key. The power is charged with gumption. The wheel responds in a twinkling to tight corners or turns. And on a back road a Chevrolet steps with ease over ruts that would look like barricades to lesser suspension systems. In short, a Chevy shows "savvy." You can, too. See your Chevrolet dealer!

Make your dream house come true! It's easy
—through Payroll Savings!

If you think you can't own the home of your dreams because the down payment's too steep, chances are you've never tried the Payroll Savings Plan. Because this is the easy, automatic way to meet any down payment—for a house or any large purchase.

Just do this: Sign a Payroll Savings application at your pay office, naming a certain sum to be kept aside from your pay before you get it each week—a few dollars or as much as you want. After that, you're saving extensively—nothing to worry about, nothing to do. And, best of all, the money saved out of your pay each week is automatically invested for you in U. S. Series E Savings Bonds.

Because Savings Bonds earn solid interest—3% cumulative semiannually when held to maturity —the few dollars saved from your pay each week soon grow into big generous amounts. For instance, if you sign for $12.50 a week, in just five years you'll have $3,348.95 cash. In 9 years, 8 months, you'll have $7,217.20!

So don't let down payments get you down. Meet your needs for ready cash the way more than 6 million other Americans are meeting theirs—join the Payroll Savings Plan today. Or, if you're self-employed, invest in Bonds regularly where you bank. Start now to make your dreams come true!

If you want your interest as current income, ask your bank about Series H Bonds, which pay dividends annually by Treasury check.

Uncle Sam made the bonds you own an even better bargain!

Now your maturing Series E Bonds can earn interest 10 more years at 3%

PRESENT TREASURY REGULATIONS make it possible for you to collect a return of as much as 80% on the Series E Savings Bonds you already own!

For now those Bonds which you invested in 10 years ago can go right on earning interest for ten more years without your doing a thing about it! That is true not only of the Bonds which you have held for ten years, but any other Series E Bonds which you have invested in in the meantime. And any Series E Bonds which you obtain now will also enjoy the extended earning period. They will start earning interest sooner and mature earlier, too, paying 3%, compounded semiannually.

The Bond you got for $18.75 can now pay you $33.67 . . . a $37.50 Bond will be worth $67.34 . . . and so on.

Of course, any Series E Bond may still be redeemed at any time after you have held it for two months. But, like any other form of saving, your Bonds will mean a great deal more to you if you can hold on to them.

Are you one of the millions of Americans who are saving regularly with Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan? If you're not, why not start now? Invest regularly in Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Ask your pay office to save as little as 25c a week for you, or as much as you are able.

If you can save just $5 a week regularly through the Plan, in five years you will have $1,367.90 . . . in 9 years and 8 months, you'll have $2,850.70 . . . and in 19 years and 8 months, $6,872.45! This Plan is one sure way to save because it saves something out of every check before you have a chance to spend it.

So join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work today. Or, if you are self-employed, start the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank. It's safe, it's sure, it's automatic. And you will be helping yourself and your country!

If you want to be paid
your interest as current income—
invest in 3% Series H

If you want a good, sound investment which pays you your interest by check every six months, ask at your bank about United States Government Series H Bonds. Series H is a new current income Bond available in denominations of $500 to $10,000. Redeemable at par after 6 months and on 30 days' notice. Matures in 9 years and 8 months and pays an average 3% interest per annum if held to maturity. Interest paid semiannually by Treasury check. Series H may be purchased at any bank, annual limit $20,000.

Now even better! Invest more in Savings Bonds!

Mr. Harrington stated that the selection of Mr. Dufresne was made from among 76 applicants from all over the United States and one from Alaska. He stated further that the Board feels it has interviewed many candidates, working diligently since it learned of Mr. Kledzik's resignation to find the best successor to Mr. Kledzik available and they feel that in Mr. Dufresne, the hospital will continue to grow and advance in its service to the community.

Eddie Vertommen New FFA President

Eddie Vertommen was elected new president of the Pahokee Chapter, Future Farmers of America, at the last chapter meeting of the school year held in the agricultural building on the PHS campus.

Other officers elected for the coming year were Richard Weeks, vice president; Wayne Unwin, secretary; Earl Kelley, treasurer; Willie Veal, sentinel, and John Usher, reporter.

Chapter farmer awards were presented to Ronnie Janes, Hal Owens, Sammy Finch, Tripp Alderman, Ronnie Graydon and Charles Lewis, each of whom netted $125 or more from individual FFA farm projects during the year.

It was announced the chapter would be represented at the FFA State Convention at Daytona Beach this week starting June 10th by Eddie Vertommen and Cliff Stuart, delegates, and John Usher and Gerald Phillips, alternates. Two members of the chapter, Rusty Hall and Clinton Sellers, will attend the FFA forestry camp near Lake City later this month.

Mrs. C. R. Wetherington, Jr., is a patient at the Everglades Memorial Hospital this week.

Pahokee Council Has Regular Meet

The Pahokee City Council in regular session Monday night was briefed by City Attorney Ralph O. Johnson on the necessary legal steps carrying through citywide condemnation proceedings against unsafe commercial buildings such as rooming houses and places of business. City Inspector Frank Thompson was asked to compile a list of buildings subject to condemnation proceedings and have the owners of these buildings to appear before the Council at the next meeting to discuss a program of repairing and improving the buildings, thus giving the owners a chance to comply with the city's building code before the start of condemnation proceedings.

A written communication from the County Board of Public Instruction through T. W. Knight, board member, asked the city for a review of the appraisal of school-owned land on Bacom Point Road, now in use as a public park, which the board proposes to sell to the city. This land was appraised for the board at $45 per front foot, whereas, the city has offered $30 a front foot.

The Council voted to enter a formal agreement with County School Board that the city pick up garbage at the Pahokee and Canal Point Schools without charge in exchange for the board's service of keeping the grass mowed at the park on Bacom Point Road.

It was also voted to sign an agreement with the County Zoning Board making City Inspector Frank Thompson's services available to the board for the inspection of all new construction in Northwestern Palm Beach County outside the Pahokee city limits, the board to pay the city $100 a month in compensation for these services. Should this agreement prove unsatisfactory to either the city or the board it is subject to cancellation on two months' notice.

A delegation of business men and women, headed by Manning I. Keen, was present at the meeting to enter protest against any action by the Council to establish a truck route that would completely bypass Pahokee, the delegation contending such action would hurt the business of the community. Council President John Hutton asked that the protests be submitted in writing for study by the Council before it acts on this matter.

Attorney Johnson reported the Florida Legislature passed the three bills for amending the charter of the City of Pahokee. One bill provides for the appointment of a city manager, another provides for recall procedure against members of the Council, and the third provides for the naming of a city clerk and chief of police by appointment instead of by election and the placing of city employees under a civil service system. These bills must be approved by a majority vote in a referendum election before they become effective.
